

VALUE OF MILK

Milk is a good food, one of the most perfectly balanced foods we have.

It is so well balanced that it can supply practically all the needs of the body.

A quart of milk contains as much nourishment as a pound of lean beefsteak.

Also, much of the necessary lime and many of the valuable salts not found in beef.

Safeguarded from spoil to sell, the rich, creamy milk of purebred cows is guaranteed pure.

McGuire's
Bordeaux

REAL VERMOUTH—made by us during 64 years of wine-making at Bordeaux, France. Just 5 ounces of pure alcohol removed from each bottle for use in this country.

French or Italian style. Demand the genuine.

"Original Recipes" Tells you how! Send for your free copy.

SALE THIS AFTERNOON AT 2:30 AND TONIGHT AT 8:15

AT THE ANDERSON GALLERIES

THE WILBUR J. COOKE COLLECTION

PUTNAM BOOKS AND AUTHORS

"A. W." on "P. G."

It is an extraordinary thing in itself, for the dramatic critic of a New York newspaper to devote nearly two full columns to a book. But one of the extraordinary circumstances is the book; the other is the critic's own eminence as an author. In his very unusual review in the New York Herald of

THE SECOND EMPIRE

By Philip Guedalla

Alexander Woolcott avows that what he covets and desires more than all else is the ability to write like Philip Guedalla. He has found no book this fall, he says, so richly and delightfully entertaining as "The Second Empire." Napoleon III emerges from Guedalla's meretricious analysis a far different figure from that which most historians have pictured. How Guedalla can write,

The nine men and one woman who are the cause of most of the excitement in Central Europe, are put through the third degree in

Eugene Bagge's

EMINENT EUROPEANS

Some of them profit by the ordeal. Others do not. But the reader will revel in Mr. Bagge's joyous phrases, intimate gossip and brilliant character sketches. "A book that has not a dull page," says Owen Langdon in The World.

Give That Boy

A Hyatt Verrill's exciting story of the adventures of a group of boys in the domain of the Kuna Indians. There's a thrill a minute in

IN THE FORBIDDEN LAND

MORE "Q"

Quiller-Couch contributes a new volume of which is distinctly refreshing in its brilliant handling of many many handled subjects.

STUDIES IN LITERATURE

The great works of literature are presented informally and delightfully by Hon. Stephen Colridge, through the medium of letters to his grandson collected in

THE GLORY OF ENGLISH PROSE

Give Books—The Gift of No Regrets.

G. P. P.

MERCHANTS DIVIDED ON IMMIGRANT LAW

State Chamber of Commerce Postpones Stand on Limiting Aliens.

LABOR NEEDS NOT MET

McCarroll Says Newcomers Promote Everything but Americanism.

OWSLEY WARNS OF REDS

Legion Commander Says Veterans' Work Parallels That of Chamber.

While the Chamber of Commerce of the State of New York adopted the resolution of the executive committee favoring gradual and progressive amendment of the present immigration law rather than a sudden and drastic recasting of the measure, opposition was so general to the stand taken by the body of which Frederick H. Ecker is chairman that Irving T. Bush, president, announced that hearings would be held on the subject within the next week or two. The call for discussion brought several members to their feet for remarks, during which frequent reference was made to the series of articles on "The Reds in the United States," now appearing in THE NEW YORK HERALD.

The opposition to the report of the executive committee developed the idea that the findings of Mr. Ecker and his colleagues were negative rather than positive. An amendment to the resolution which further emphasized the need of barring undesirable aliens was voted down. Elton H. Hooker stressed his point on the need for strict immigration laws by showing that the theory of government in this country is of assimilated peoples, while the theory of government abroad is a segregation of groups.

W. C. Dickinson, vice-president of the American Car and Foundry Company, said that there is a big demand for labor, but it is not being supplied by the present class of immigrants. William McCarroll said that the people who are coming to us now have promoted everything but Americanism, many of them promoting active anti-Americanism.

Col. Alvin M. Owsley, national commander of the American Legion, was guest of honor at the Chamber's monthly session. He said that the Legion Americanization work ran along the same lines as the Chamber's and detailed the efforts of his organization throughout the country to teach the language to foreigners. Discussing care of disabled soldiers, he referred to a recent assurance from President Harding that the latter would get behind this proposition "and two great institutions that will require millions of dollars to build are to be located in the State of New York for the service of our great masses of men who are here."

Col. Owsley sounded the warning against radicalism.

A report urging improvement of the diplomatic and consular services by providing for a uniform foreign service with a few well-paid and a more attractive retirement plan was adopted, as was a resolution for the creation, maintenance and management of "tramp operation as an integral part of the consular service."

William McCarroll offered a resolution, which was adopted, urging that Eighty-sixth street, between Fifth avenue and West street, be made a pedestrian road with parallel pedestrian paths through the park.

The report on the formation of a welfare council, submitted by a special committee, headed by Charles P. Freeman, was passed. The executive committee offered a resolution of tribute to the late Thomas De Witt Cuyler, who was a member and trustee of the Chamber of Commerce of the State of New York for a number of years. Announcement was made of the election of Frank K. Sturgis as a trustee to fill Mr. Cuyler's place. Thirty-one new members were admitted.

INVESTORS ARE WARNED AGAINST FAKE STOCKS

Investigate First, Advice of Vigilance Committee Head.

"Investigate before you invest," was the message of H. H. Robbins, president of H. D. Robbins & Co., investment bankers, of 61 Broadway, and chairman of the National Vigilance Committee of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, at a luncheon of the Exchange Club of New York yesterday in the Hotel Breunlin. He also outlined the mission of the Better Business Bureau of New York, of which he is a director, to detect and apprehend financial and commercial defrauders.

"The National Vigilance Committee of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World," he said, "organized to create maximum public confidence in advertising by making all advertising trustworthy, operates locally in thirty-eight leading cities through Better Business bureaus. Last July a Better Business bureau was established in New York. Eventually it will take up questions in the merchandising field, but at present it is concerned with investigating frauds in the sale of get rich quick stocks to New York investors. Already several exposures have resulted and evidence accumulated based on the constituted authorities.

"The national committee, whose activities are nationwide, are just now conducting an extensive investigation in Texas in connection with the sale of fraudulent oil stocks."

Mr. Robbins warned against the horde of stock salesmen, who, without proper training in the business or representing experienced and reliable houses, are calling on investors, seeking by specious arguments to sell securities unworthy of investors' confidence. He said:

"Know with whom you deal and deal only with established, reputable investment houses who have the proper experience, facilities and disposition to properly investigate and to tell the true facts to their clients. There are many such houses, and it is unnecessary to deal with itinerant salesmen, no matter how plausible they are."

"Those who have been defrauded along investment lines or who suspect fraud may file their complaints with the Better Business Bureau or the National Vigilance Committee."

MRS. WOODHOUSE WINS DAMAGES OF $465,000

Awarded Big Verdict in Alienation Suit.

BURLINGTON, Vt., Dec. 7.—A jury of farmers to-day awarded $465,000 damages to Mrs. Dorris S. Woodhouse, who sued her wealthy parents-at-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo E. Woodhouse of New York and this city, for $1,000,000, alleging that they had alienated the affections of her young husband, C. Douglas Woodhouse, who is at Reno, Nev., seeking a divorce.

Counsel for the elder Woodhouses immediately moved that the verdict be set aside.

The jury was out forty hours, their deliberations largely over the amount of damages. Counsel for the plaintiff developed testimony that indicated the defendants were worth approximately $1,500,000. Of the $465,000 awarded $400,000 was given as actual damages to the young wife and $65,000 as a punitive award.

The romance of young Woodhouse and the "poor little girl" who lived next door was fairly familiar to Burlington people before the trial, in which it was retold they met at a college prom and were married while Woodhouse was at an army camp in 1918. They separated a little more than a year later.

Mrs. Woodhouse introduced evidence that her parents-at-law had snubbed her and had encouraged an affair between her husband and Mrs. Lillian H. McClellan of Washington, D. C., which led to an engagement while he still was married. Mrs. McClellan in a deposition said she broke this engagement when she learned Woodhouse had not been divorced.

TAFT ADVOCATES MORE POWER FOR PRESIDENT

Favors Appointments Without Senate Confirmation.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Chief Justice Taft suggested in an address to-night before the annual convention of the National Civil Service Reform League that the power be given to the President to make appointments to all local offices without Senate confirmation. This would be of great assistance to the President, Mr. Taft said, because he could, by executive order, turn the entire burden of some task over to the Civil Service Commission.

The change, which is suggested for postmasters, collectors of internal revenue, United States attorneys, Federal marshals and other field officers of the Government, he declared, should be welcomed by Congress, because of "the opportunities of patronage seekers."

FRICK ESTATE WINS TAX FIGHT

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 7.—The State cannot collect taxes on the bequest made by the late H. C. Frick of the Frick Woodland property and the $2,000,000 he provided as an endowment fund with which to maintain it as a park for the free use of the public, according to an opinion handed down this morning in the Orphans Court by Judge Mitchell.

CITY TO FIGHT LANDLORDS WHO BOOST RENT SKY HIGH

Comptroller Craig Would Force Test on Annexes to Three Schools in Bronx Upon Which Leases Have Been Raised 100 Per Cent.

Comptroller Charles L. Craig at yesterday's meeting of the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund said that landlords from whom the city leases property will be fought to the end if they insist on raising rents. He declared that some of these landlords are asking as high as 100 per cent. increase in rents over last year, which the city would refuse to pay even if dispossessed. Mayor Hylan endorsed the stand taken by Mr. Craig.

Comptroller Craig made the remarks after Associate Superintendent of Schools Shallow submitted a report to the Sinking Fund Commission urging renewal of the lease of annexes of Public Schools 32, 57 and 59 in The Bronx, even though the rents had been doubled. Mr. Shallow said that a real emergency exists, that the premises are well worth the increased rent and that conditions in the three schools will become intolerable if the leases are not renewed.

"The landlords want us out," Mr. Shallow said.

"Well, let them serve us with a dispossess," said Mr. Craig. "I think it would be far better to condemn this property than pay these landlords the increased rental. Some landlords leasing property to the city are under the misapprehension that if they hold out long enough for a 100 per cent. increase they will get what they want. So far as I am concerned this sort of thing has to stop somewhere. If it comes to a test of nerve, let the city show a little. Let us fight these profiteers. The landlord who is sufficiently voracious in this city usually wins irrespective of the justice of the claims. Let us take our stand now or never."

"See if we can't start something," interjected the Mayor.

"It's about time we did," Mr. Craig replied.

Pending further investigation the matter was put over for two weeks.

FEARS FOR FOREIGN DOMINATION IN U. S.

Prof. Myers Says Problem Is Not Americanizing Aliens, but Saving Natives.

Prof. William Starr Myers of Princeton University, who addressed the Woman's Municipal League yesterday at a luncheon at the Hotel Astor, said that one of the things to be feared from immigration was the de-Americanization of the native born. "It isn't so much a problem of Americanizing the foreigner as it is to prevent him from having the opposite effect on the American," he averred. "Foreigners are assimilating America and American institutions. Some cities are nearly 50 per cent. foreign."

"I was opposed to the suffrage movement, not that I gave a snap of my fingers whether women vote or not. What I desired was and we need more than ever now—to place suffrage on an educational basis and a disfranchising of a lot of men and women. It doesn't matter whether the voter is a man or woman so long as the voter is intelligent. A suggestion I should like to make is that every voter be required to read, write and speak English."

"The last big vote in New York city, which showed a swing from one party to another, was the result of a lot of foreign votes. One of the characters of the last election was that the character of the vote was that of the foreigner. It's the effect of radicalism in Europe, and radicalism is pretty much the same in the United States. The only difference is that the Ku Klux wear masks and act secretly."

Mayor Hylan sent out a letter just before the election saying a little of this radicalism. It was written to the public school teachers and practically ordered them to vote for him. On the back of the letter of the letter was a sample ballot marked the way they should vote." Prof. Myers displayed the letter which was addressed to the "Voters of the Borough of Queens" and was signed, "John F. Hylan."

"What this nation needs is discipline. Parents should have their boys at Princeton and be disciplined and then give them high powered automobiles so they can keep away from college. Automobiles and education are not synonymous terms."

Mrs. Frederick C. Hodderon, who presided, announced that the League will take up the study of immigration this winter.

MRS. WOODHOUSE WINS DAMAGES OF $465,000

Awarded Big Verdict in Alienation Suit.

BURLINGTON, Vt., Dec. 7.—A jury of farmers to-day awarded $465,000 damages to Mrs. Dorris S. Woodhouse, who sued her wealthy parents-at-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo E. Woodhouse of New York and this city, for $1,000,000, alleging that they had alienated the affections of her young husband, C. Douglas Woodhouse, who is at Reno, Nev., seeking a divorce.

Counsel for the elder Woodhouses immediately moved that the verdict be set aside.

The jury was out forty hours, their deliberations largely over the amount of damages. Counsel for the plaintiff developed testimony that indicated the defendants were worth approximately $1,500,000. Of the $465,000 awarded $400,000 was given as actual damages to the young wife and $65,000 as a punitive award.

The romance of young Woodhouse and the "poor little girl" who lived next door was fairly familiar to Burlington people before the trial, in which it was retold they met at a college prom and were married while Woodhouse was at an army camp in 1918. They separated a little more than a year later.

Mrs. Woodhouse introduced evidence that her parents-at-law had snubbed her and had encouraged an affair between her husband and Mrs. Lillian H. McClellan of Washington, D. C., which led to an engagement while he still was married. Mrs. McClellan in a deposition said she broke this engagement when she learned Woodhouse had not been divorced.

TAFT ADVOCATES MORE POWER FOR PRESIDENT

Favors Appointments Without Senate Confirmation.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Chief Justice Taft suggested in an address to-night before the annual convention of the National Civil Service Reform League that the power be given to the President to make appointments to all local offices without Senate confirmation. This would be of great assistance to the President, Mr. Taft said, because he could, by executive order, turn the entire burden of some task over to the Civil Service Commission.

The change, which is suggested for postmasters, collectors of internal revenue, United States attorneys, Federal marshals and other field officers of the Government, he declared, should be welcomed by Congress, because of "the opportunities of patronage seekers."

FRICK ESTATE WINS TAX FIGHT

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 7.—The State cannot collect taxes on the bequest made by the late H. C. Frick of the Frick Woodland property and the $2,000,000 he provided as an endowment fund with which to maintain it as a park for the free use of the public, according to an opinion handed down this morning in the Orphans Court by Judge Mitchell.

QUEER STOCK DEALS LAID TO VAN RIPER

Seizure of Bankrupt Concern's Furniture Revives Old Swindle Charges.

INDICTED MANY TIMES

Alleged to Be the Guiding Spirit of Empire Food Products Company.

NAME IN BACKGROUND

New Ventures Spring Up While Charges Against Him Await Trial.

Agents of John L. Lyttle, receiver for the Empire Food Products Company, formerly of 71 Barclay street, yesterday seized the furniture of the Yankee Roll Distributing Corporation, in the Liggett Building, Forty-second street and Madison avenue, and the furniture of the Empire Food Products Corporation, in the Flisk Building, Broadway and Fifty-seventh street, as assets of the bankrupt concern.

At the same time Leon Dasher, attorney for Mrs. John Julian of Kensington, Conn., moved before Judge Mack in the United States District Court, to have her involuntary bankruptcy petition against the John H. Martin Company, stock brokers, of 50 Broad street, referred to a special master. Mrs. Julian's petition alleges that Martin obtained $2,000 from her for Empire Food Products Company stock at $9 to $10 a share, which Martin had acquired at 11 cents a share, and which now is without value. Martin denied the charge and announced his intention to fight the petition.

Dasher, who also is attorney for Receiver Lyttle, disclosed affidavits purporting that the backer and guiding genius of the bankrupt Empire Food Products Company was Lewis C. Van Riper of Boston and New York, much indicted promoter of oil and other securities. Martin, according to Dasher's affidavits, was associated with Van Riper in the control of the Empire Food Products Company.

Stock Thrown On List

John C. Barclay of 173 Lloyd road, Montclair, N. J., said that he also is seeking to recover from Martin money which was invested in the Empire Food stock at $9 a share. He is acting in behalf of his gardener. Barclay said he himself wrote to Martin to learn something about the stock his gardener had bought, and he asked Martin for quotations. He said he received a reply that there was no stock on the market, but that Martin might be able to pick up some shares for him at $11 or $12 a share.

As a matter of fact, the stock, which formerly was listed on the New York Curb Exchange, was thrown off the list last summer after an investigation by the Curb's listing committee. The reason given was that the sellers of the stock were fixing one price on the market while the stock was selling at a lower price around the country.

The records of the United States Corporation Company show a registration of 60,000 shares of Empire Food Products Company stock sold. The receiver is in possession of a stock book four inches thick, nearly empty. Sales from that book, it was stated, are not included in the United States Corporation Company's tabulation.

The Empire Food Products Company was formed from a merger of at least two other concerns, and its name once was changed to Empco, Inc., because of the protest of a Brooklyn concern of a

MANUFACTURER SAYS LIFE

William Friedman, 34, a shirt manufacturer with a factory at 50 Leonard street, was found dead last night in the Hotel Theresa, Seventh avenue and 123rd street, hanging from a rope in a wardrobe. He took a room there Wednesday afternoon. His home was at 157 West 111th street and for two days his wife had been searching for him.

Plans for a Big Federal Building in New York City to House Courts, the Bureau of Investigation and other offices of the Department of Justice, the Internal Revenue Bureau and the prohibition unit are under consideration by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon.

The Government is spending millions in New York each year for rental of private buildings to house various Government activities and a great saving could be effected, a number of Cabinet members believe, if these activities could be housed in one or possibly two Federal buildings.

Because of the high New York rentals Secretary Mellon favors immediate appropriations for Federal buildings in New York. Any move for such a building or buildings, however, immediately opens the question of an omnibus public buildings bill in the present Congress. President Harding is opposed to such a bill on the ground of economy. Members of Congress generally favor it.

Plans for a Big Federal Building in New York City to house Courts, the Bureau of Investigation and other offices of the Department of Justice, the Internal Revenue Bureau and the prohibition unit are under consideration by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon.

The Government is spending millions in New York each year for rental of private buildings to house various Government activities and a great saving could be effected, a number of Cabinet members believe, if these activities could be housed in one or possibly two Federal buildings.

Because of the high New York rentals Secretary Mellon favors immediate appropriations for Federal buildings in New York. Any move for such a building or buildings, however, immediately opens the question of an omnibus public buildings bill in the present Congress. President Harding is opposed to such a bill on the ground of economy. Members of Congress generally favor it.

Boston Mayor Asks Jail Terms for Coal Gougers

BOSTON, Dec. 7.—Mayor Curley to-day asked Charles B. Woolley, dealer in weights and measures, to request Chief Justice Bolster of the Municipal Court to impose jail sentences instead of fines upon profiteering coal dealers. This action followed information that peddlers were selling coal consisting largely of slate in small lots at prices that were at the rate of $25 a ton.

name similar to the Empire Food Products Company. Immediately after the failure of the Empire Food Products Company the Empire Food Products Corporation and back named Van Riper and some of his associates were arrested in Boston.

The Better Business Bureau, 61 Broadway, has received inquiries concerning the Empire Food Products Company stock from Baltimore and Detroit. The bureau is informed that efforts have been made in Detroit to substitute Empire Food Products Corporation stock for Empire Food Products Company stock.

Van Riper indicted here.

Van Riper has specialized in numerous other promotions, notably mining stocks, most conspicuous of which were his Arizona Silver Mines Company, Silver Reef Mining Company, Arizona Silver Extension Mining Company, Consolidated Silver Mining Company and Universal Silver Mining Company. This flood of silver mine stock was slowed up somewhat in 1920 when Van Riper and some of his associates were arrested in Boston.

Van Riper and three associates were indicted by a Federal Grand Jury here two and a half years ago. Although Van Riper apparently has been active in new stock transactions here since, as indicated by the Empire Food episode, his indictment never has come to trial. At the time he was released on $20,000 bail he was immediately rearrested as a fugitive from justice for charges pending against him in Philadelphia.

The name of Van Riper appears to have slept with the indictment until soon after the death of George W. Perkins, capitalist and backer of the Bull Moose party. Then appeared the firm of George H. Perkins & Co., stock brokers, with elaborate offices at 50 Broad street. Last March, that firm went into bankruptcy, and the event was followed by detective chases to locate its officers. The first tangible clue discovered was a safe deposit box rented from the Standard Trust Company in the name of C. E. Van Riper, to which the Perkins firm had access.

Lewis C. Van Riper was a codefendant with his son, Charles B. Van Riper, in 1920 under Philadelphia indictments charging operating a bucket shop, grand larceny, conspiracy to defraud, larceny by bailee and fraudulent sale of col-laterals.

MELLON WANTS A BIG FEDERAL BUILDING HERE

Favors General Housing Plan for Economy.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 7.—Plans for a big Federal building in New York City to house courts, the Bureau of Investigation and other offices of the Department of Justice, the Internal Revenue Bureau and the prohibition unit are under consideration by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon.

The Government is spending millions in New York each year for rental of private buildings to house various Government activities and a great saving could be effected, a number of Cabinet members believe, if these activities could be housed in one or possibly two Federal buildings.

Because of the high New York rentals Secretary Mellon favors immediate appropriations for Federal buildings in New York. Any move for such a building or buildings, however, immediately opens the question of an omnibus public buildings bill in the present Congress. President Harding is opposed to such a bill on the ground of economy. Members of Congress generally favor it.

MANUFACTURER SAYS LIFE

William Friedman, 34, a shirt manufacturer with a factory at 50 Leonard street, was found dead last night in the Hotel Theresa, Seventh avenue and 123rd street, hanging from a rope in a wardrobe. He took a room there Wednesday afternoon. His home was at 157 West 111th street and for two days his wife had been searching for him.

Plans for a Big Federal Building in New York City to House Courts, the Bureau of Investigation and other offices of the Department of Justice, the Internal Revenue Bureau and the prohibition unit are under consideration by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon.

The Government is spending millions in New York each year for rental of private buildings to house various Government activities and a great saving could be effected, a number of Cabinet members believe, if these activities could be housed in one or possibly two Federal buildings.

Because of the high New York rentals Secretary Mellon favors immediate appropriations for Federal buildings in New York. Any move for such a building or buildings, however, immediately opens the question of an omnibus public buildings bill in the present Congress. President Harding is opposed to such a bill on the ground of economy. Members of Congress generally favor it.

Plans for a Big Federal Building in New York City to house Courts, the Bureau of Investigation and other offices of the Department of Justice, the Internal Revenue Bureau and the prohibition unit are under consideration by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon.

The Government is spending millions in New York each year for rental of private buildings to house various Government activities and a great saving could be effected, a number of Cabinet members believe, if these activities could be housed in one or possibly two Federal buildings.

Because of the high New York rentals Secretary Mellon favors immediate appropriations for Federal buildings in New York. Any move for such a building or buildings, however, immediately opens the question of an omnibus public buildings bill in the present Congress. President Harding is opposed to such a bill on the ground of economy. Members of Congress generally favor it.

MANUFACTURER SAYS LIFE

William Friedman, 34, a shirt manufacturer with a factory at 50 Leonard street, was found dead last night in the Hotel Theresa, Seventh avenue and 123rd street, hanging from a rope in a wardrobe. He took a room there Wednesday afternoon. His home was at 157 West 111th street and for two days his wife had been searching for him.

TIFFANY & Co.
FIFTH AVENUE & 37th STREET

WATCHES AND WRIST WATCHES PLAIN AND JEWEL

Gifts—New Importations of the Rare and Distinctive—Direct from the Rue de la Paix.

If you have ever been to the Rue de la Paix, Paris, you will recall that, at number 4, is the Artalon Internationale.

This is the headquarters of a world-wide group of artist-craftsmen, workers in gold, silver, ivory, leather, bronze, precious and semi-precious stones.

Only a rare few of the most exclusive shops in Paris and London are allowed the privilege of offering the handwork of this Artalon Guild of master craftsmen.

On the 21st floor of the Heckscher Building, 730 Fifth Avenue, at 57th Street, is the exclusive New York shop of Artalon Internationale.

Here you will find, just off the steamer, hundreds upon hundreds of these fine, rare, exclusive Artalon gifts, which are priceless in beauty, but not high-priced.

Gift articles for personal use or for decoration, wrought as only the master artist-craftsmen of the Artalon Guild can work.

Gifts in leather, ivory, bronze, gold, silver, amber, crystal, precious and semi-precious stones. Gifts that are widely varied in character, kind, and use. For example:

A desk clock 3 1/2 inches high, in antique leather case hand tooled in 18 karat gold, worth at least $20.00—but here $17.50.

A tortoise shell cigar case, inlaid with 14 karat gold, worth $45.00—here $35.00.

Ladies Black or Brown Suede Purse, silk-lined with graceful wrist strap. Front decorated with French enamel on sterling—gold inlaid—worth at least $25, but here $12.50.

A beautifully inlaid solid gold cigarette humidor, $12.50 value—but here at $8.50.

Lucky Bracelets of real elephant hair with 14 karat gold mountings and tiny hand-carved ivory elephants. Lelelelelele. Worth at least $12.50.

A Louis XVI Jewel Chest with six velvet-lined drawers, beautifully executed in black enamel on sterling silver, worth at least $100.00, but here $475.00.

An exquisite tortoise shell bracelet with 244 oriental pearls, valued at $350.00—here for $180.00.

A beautifully chased solid gold vanity case, artistically decorated with 87 individually set diamonds and six carved crystal pearls, worth at least $750.00, but here for $375.00.

Gifts in Indescribable Variety

Come and see, and judge for yourself how well Artalon can meet your gift requirements.

You do not even need to ask—"What shall I give her?" or "What shall I give him?"

The answer is here at Artalon—the answer that will make you say, "The very thing!"—at a price that will also make you glad you came.

ARTALON INTERNATIONALE

Suite 2104, on the 21st floor of the Heckscher Building 730 Fifth Ave. at 57th St. NEW YORK

4 Rue de la Paix PARIS CTRele 10408

Does G-u-a-r-a-n-t-e-e spell safety?

ON Prudence-Bonds it does.

In addition to the security of thoroughly safeguarded, conservative first mortgages on land and completed buildings, Prudence-Bondholders are additionally protected by our endorsed guarantee of payment of both principal and interest.

There are many ways of spelling safety, but none stronger than with a g-u-a-r-a-n-t-e-e. We shall be glad to explain the complete advantages of the latter—if you will write for booklet.

J-306

THE PRUDENCE COMPANY INC.

31 NASSAU ST. NEW YORK

Under the supervision of N. Y. State Banking Dept. CAPITAL AND SURPLUS $1,100,000 DENOMINATIONS $100 - $500 - $1000

162 REMSEN ST. BROOKLYN

Copyright, 1921, Prudence Co., Inc.

Chests of Wedding Silver

THE NEW bride and groom have Always been particular objects of Ovington's solicitude.

For the young couple about to embark upon the matrimonial adventure of house-keeping, there is nothing more suitable, welcome or necessary as a gift, than a chest of table silver.

Ovington's silver department is one of which we are especially proud. In the variety and interest of its offerings it ranks high indeed. And in the moderation of its prices, the Ovington Silver Shop is the outstanding shop in town.

OVINGTON'S

"The Gift Shop of Fifth Avenue"

FIFTH AVENUE AT 39TH STREET